

Admiral Zayda's Proposal

On Warp Drive
Alternatives

Canine Ops

- Find and recruit only the finest of canines eligible for Starfleet.
- Motivators for positive reinforcement during training include;
  - Treats.
  - Petting or Scratches.
  - Treats. Did I mention Treats? I like Treats.
  - Dinner Time.
  - Squeaky Toys.
  - Just making sure Treats are properly represented here. This is very important!

- Establish a Canine Ops department on every starship to sniff out Warp Drive Alternatives like:
  - Underspace Apertures
  - Wormholes
  - Transwarp Conduits
  - Benamite Crystals to power Quantum Slipstream Drives
  - Potential Q skulking about who may possibly be persuaded to send us across the galaxy for their amusement.
  - Potential food sources. This has nothing to do with Warp Drive Alternatives. But it cannot be stressed how important a goal this is! Wherever you are hiding those treats, they WILL be found! This takes priority over Warp Drive Alternatives!

Graviton Catapults

- Pros:
  - Fetch!
  - It throws vessels very far.
  - MY ball! You may not take!
- Cons:
  - Costly to build.
  - Need one in every system.
  - I have to give the ball back if it is going to be thrown again.

HEY, IT'S A CAT!!!!!!

Well, I suppose we could get along.

- In the interests of promoting peace.
- Furthering the mission of finding Warp Drive Alternatives
- A mutual love of treats.
- Don't give the cats all of the treats.
- Or the scratches.

Canine Ops Can Map the Underspace

Turn us loose and:

- We can find even more routes through the Underspace.
- Sniff out even more apertures.
- Recall with clarity the location of every encounter of:
  - Vaadwuar vessel.
  - Blackout station.
  - Small animal.
  - Things you do not want me to eat.

CANINE OPS

- LOYAL
- OBEDIENT
- DEDICATED
- PATHFINDERS
- BLOODHOUNDS
- TREAT-MOTIVATED
